I have just returned from the evening mee ng now in progress at the First Cumberland resbyterian Church. Rev. J. L. McKee, O. Dr. Baird then asked, in his simple and impressive manner, those who would heed the voice of their tender Shepherd to come near the stand, and was joined in singing a touching Christian melody, during which two come forward wo came forward Then, at the Doctor's solicitation, many Christians came near and knelt in prayer for more of Christ's spirit to bless all, and especially the pastor; and, at the same time, a number of the unconverted knelt in their places, as penitents and seekers. To-day, at 4 P. M., all Christians, and those anxious to become Christians, are invited to meet at the Doctor's church. The Conflict of State and Federal Jurisdiction in West Tennessee.

It will be remembered that of the sixteen necroes taken from iall at Trenton. several weeks ago ten made their escape. Six found their way to Memphis, where they are held by the Federal authorities as witnesses against the parties to be prosecuted in the United States District Court. The grand jury of Gibson county is now considering the cases of these negroes and will indict them for the riotons proceedings that led to the Trenton massacre As the court meets at Humboldt on Monday, a demand will be made for their delivery to the sheriff of Gibson county, but U. S. District Attorney Murray has already intimated that they shall not go out of his hands.

Several parties who will probably be grested in Gibson county this week, have determined not to give bail. Writs of habeas corpus will be sned out in their cases and the constitutionality of the Enorcement Act will be fully passed upon before United Stated Circuit Judge Emmons. At the request of Gov. Brown, opinions relative to the conflict of jurisdiction in West Tennessee have been prepared by Attorney General Heiskell and Chancellor Cooper. They both hold that the Enforcement Act is unconstitutional, and that, even if such were not the case, it does not embrace within its scope the action taken by the Federal officials.

IN DEMAND.

A Requisition from the Governor of of Mississippi for a Colored Murderer in Jail Here. Agents of the State of Mississippi are in the city with a requisition upon the Governor of this State for Green Stokes, colored, alias Joe Holt, alias Joe Lytle, now in jail at this place. He was arrested at the Louisville epot in this city on the first day of July last, upon receipt of informaion to the effect that he was wanted at Beech Grove, near Wartrace, to answer for the crime of burglary. Soon after his arrest a dispatch came stating that he was also wanted at Murfreesboro for horse stealing. He was also accused of having fired at an officer who was trying to arrest hun at Murfreesboro a few days before. It seems that this darkey with the numerous aliases was confined in the Murfreesboro jail about four years ago for the crime of burglary, but escaped therefrom. A sister of the prisoner says that about three years ago she received a letter from him, dated at Corinth, to the effect that he was in jail, and was to be hung in a few days; that he afterwards made his appearance at her house, in Bedford county, and tried to induce her daughter to run off with him, and that he told her he had outraged a woman in Kentucky, and construction, by the government, of the killed her afterwards to avoid detection. making his escape. But all this does not explain why Stokes is wanted in Mississippi. He stands un-der sentence of death in that State and is wanted there for execution. He was convicted of a murder, sentenced to be hung and confined in jail to await the death penalty at Brook Haven, but managed to make his escape. This was probably a year ago. THE EXPOSITION.

A Gratifying Increase of Visitors The Programme for To-Bay-Recep-tion of Distinguished Visitors from Abroad-The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows To Night-Jubilee Singers-Baby Show To-Morrow-Displays,

There was a perceptible increase of vis-itors at the Exposition last night over Monday's attendance, and the pleasant weather added to the enjoyment of the evening's entertainment

The programme for to-day is the most elaborate since the opening, and will draw the largest crowd, probably, ever inside the building at one time. The Mayor and Mr. Morris was followed by Thomas of Nashwilla and at its conclusion, the City Council of Evansville will be received Parks, the Secretary of the Cotton Extrain, as indicated in yesterday's Unton AND AMERICAN. On arrival at the Maxwell House, they will be received by Mayor Howell, and tendered the freedom of the Exchange. He thought the Exchange was city. After dinner they will be taken a beneficial institution to the city and her in charge by the city officials, and trade, receive at their hands the courtesy which Tennesseeans are noted for extending to their guests. The Fire Department will leave the Square at precisely 8 o'clock, and, after parading through the principal streets, will return to the Public Square, where a trial of all the city engines, and the new Ahrens steamer (now on exhibition), will take place.
